

Experimental Theatre and Live Art

Between 1985 and 1995 the Sound Archive made video recordings of performances from the London International Festival of Theatre, Barclays New Stages and the ICA Theatre. More recently, digital video documentation of performances of fringe theatre and live art has taken place at London venues such as Battersea Arts Centre and the Chelsea Theatre. In addition, a number of recordings have been donated by performers and video makers.

Together with related television material recorded off air, these recordings form one of the country's most comprehensive publicly accessible resources for the study of contemporary creative practice in British and international theatre.

Companies and performers represented include Forced Entertainment, Marina Abramovic, Ron Athey, Bobby Baker, Desperate Optimists, Gloria, Goat Island, Annie Griffin, David Hoyle, Holly Hughes, Lumière & Son, Moti Roti, Reckless Sleepers, Station House Opera and the Wooster Group.

What follows is a rough guide only to British Library documentation of a performance sector with ever fluid and contended boundaries.

If a venue is listed the item is in most cases a unique live recording made by the British Library.

Items listed are videos except where shaded. These are audio only recordings.
